

A black and white sketch of a mosque interior. The central focus is a large, rounded dome with a small finial on top. To the right, a tall, ornate minaret is visible, featuring intricate architectural details and a series of arched windows. The background shows other parts of the mosque, including another minaret and a smaller dome. The entire scene is rendered in a sketchy, textured style with fine lines and cross-hatching for shading.

Une
lumière
à travers
les siècles

1440 de l'Hégire